Principal's Message

The School Review and Development (SRD) process at St Paul's College has been a year-long process. During this time we have been able to review and evaluate all aspects of the College. We have been fortunate enough to have the process informed and enhanced by a number of internal and external surveys and reports that have taken place concurrently with this review. As such, the SRD has been able to engage all stakeholders and draw on considerable sources of qualitative and quantitative data. The net result being the invaluable contributions, perspectives and information that have been utilised in this review process, which have then ultimately reinforced the validity of stakeholder voice and the strength of this document. As a critical starting point several key interwoven frameworks underpinned the work of this school review - namely Catholic teachings, the Catholic Schools Office Foundational Beliefs and Practices – The Essential Framework, the spirit of Proclaim Lismore , the CSO Strategic Directions Action Plan 2013-2015, the College Mission Statement, Contemporary Learning Framework and the AITSL Professional Standards for Teachers and School Leadership.

A whole-staff SRD Committee was formed and members were paired to lead each of the four domain areas of the SRD - Catholic Identity and Mission, Teaching and Learning, Organisation and Community. The Catholic Schools Office (CSO) Qualtrix survey tool was the starting point of the SRD, and was supplemented by additional survey data from the Insight SRC survey. Even though these surveys were used selectively and judiciously, they appropriately informed staff of the language, professional dialogue and direction of the SRD process throughout. This survey was completed by focus group consensus and as such, they recorded commentary around strengths and challenges which then informed the discussion around formulating the goals and strategies as the process continued.

These surveys gathered responses from 55 staff, 115 parents and 329 students. The final report was tabled at the staff development day at the midpoint of term three and it was then analysed concurrently with the CSO Qualtrix and Insight SRC results. Consequently the triangulation of data informed the professional discussion in formulating strategic goals based on both strengths and challenges. At each stage of the process, as indicated in the timeline below, the flow of information from the SRD Committee to the staff was constantly checked, rechecked and validated. All staff rotated through the each of the Focus Groups established for each of the domain areas to ensure all contributions were heard.

On behalf of the SRD committee I would like to thank all members of the St Paul's College community for their contributions to this process and we can justifiably look forward to the next five years with a shared purpose and common goals, building on our strengths and addressing our challenges as we move to an invigorated professional learning community.

Mr Kevin Lewis

College Principal

Contemporary Learning Framework

Diocese of Lismore Contemporary Learning Framework

Powerful learning in Catholic education requires:

A culture of learning that builds capacity based on:

- Collaboration and communication
- Critical thinking and creativity
- Exploration, experimentation with and building upon knowledge
- Planning and reflection

Collaborative learning experiences provide students and teachers with the opportunity to explore, experiment and be challenged in their thinking. Learners gain deeper insights, new knowledge and make meaning when the environment supports these collaborative partnerships. Through problem solving, critical thinking and working creatively, learners build capacity, skills and resilience. Learning thus becomes a progression that builds on prior knowledge and understandings.

A culture of learning that builds capacity to deepen insight and meaning

A continual focus on leadership for learning

Leadership for learning that demonstrates:

- Professional practices and standards
- Professional development and learning
- Strong instructional leadership
- Explicit and articulated learning goals

Effective leaders for learning are guided by clear moral and educational purposes. Leaders for learning are motivated to inspire and engage others in articulating a shared vision and mission. Strong instructional leaders set high expectations and promote a community of learners who share explicit and articulated learning goals. Leaders for learning manage change, understanding the importance of fundamentals. High standards, a passion for learning, knowledge of current research and the concept of continuous improvement drive professional practices. Professional learning is valued and directed to improving outcomes.

A learning community that:

- Builds relationships and trust
- Connects learners
- Strengthens partnerships
- Ensures inclusivity
- Sets high expectations

A culture of excellence evidenced by high expectations and expressed through a shared vision is the hallmark of a vibrant learning community. Strong partnerships are evident and are built on collaboration, trust and inclusivity. Learners are stimulated, supported and challenged.

A learning community built on strong partnerships that connect, challenge and collaborate

Catholic education builds Christ-centred learning communities immersed in the mystery of God's presence. In a sense of adventure these communities promote the communication of Truth, an abundance of life for all and service to the Church and world.

A rich curriculum that engages the contemporary learner

A rich curriculum that is:

- Inspiring
- Rigorous
- Flexible and negotiated
- Planned and evaluated
- Based on assessment of learning for learning

The curriculum is developed within established structures and frameworks and promotes success, inspires learners and leads to the development of confident and creative individuals. This curriculum is relevant, responsive and rigorous, catering for the needs of every learner in all situations. It is developed and reviewed in a planned way and, always building on the gifts and skills of the learners, it allows for adjustments as required.

Engaging and adaptive environments that are:

- Safe and secure
- Supportive, stimulating and challenging
- Shared
- Respectful of diversity and difference
- Energising and Flexible
- Connected locally and globally

Learners thrive in environments that are safe, supportive and secure. Flexible and intentionally developed learning environments encourage innovation and inquiry and help create a sense of belonging and purpose that strengthens the learning culture. These environments are stimulating and appropriately resourced. They promote high expectations and respect diversity and difference, facilitating learning for all students. Adaptive learning environments have no conventional boundaries because, being ICT rich, they are connected to the world beyond the classroom.

Engaging, adaptive environments that energise the learner

Pedagogy designed to empower the learner

Pedagogy that is:

- Purposeful, meaningful and relevant
- Personalised and multimodal
- Critically engaging

A pedagogy that is purposeful, meaningful and relevant nurtures and challenges the intellectual and imaginative capacities of all learners. This enables learners to use knowledge effectively, develop skills and gain deeper understandings. Learners are engaged in a broad range of proven methodologies and well-planned multimodal approaches. Personalised attention and rich feedback encourage learners to remain engaged and focused. A meaningful, relevant and shared pedagogy leads to high levels of engagement and empowerment.

College Mission Statement

St Paul's College is a Catholic co-educational school, which has as its focus the living of Gospel values. As a systemic, parish-based school in the Lismore Diocese, it provides excellent, quality education for students in Years 7 to 12 in a caring and supportive faith community. We strive to recognise and appreciate the needs of the students and wider community of the Macleay Valley.

Our College is based upon the Gospel values of dignity, equality, justice and peace, and incorporates a system of pastoral care existing within a Catholic environment and ethos. We invite individuals to share, celebrate and grow in their faith, emulating Christ in the context of our times.

We actively promote the development of the whole person to become fully human. We believe that education is a life-long process, which both empowers and enriches the individual. St Paul's College community acknowledges the worth of each student who is encouraged to aim for personal excellence in a safe and supportive environment.

Acknowledging that parents are the prime educators of their children, we recognise that we work in partnership with families to promote full development of the students. We emphasise leadership, responsibility, service, and the dignity of the individual

We value the collegiality of our staff and strive to provide support for, and development of, them. We appreciate that our staff share a common purpose as educators and carers of the students.

Professional teaching, tempered with a sense of humour, which develops skills of independent learning and critical thinking is a central purpose. We strive to provide a wide range of adequately resourced curricula and extra-curricular activities, including spiritual, academic, physical, cultural and social. Students are encouraged to develop a responsible attitude and a desire to learn.

We commit ourselves to providing an active pastoral care system which promotes positive self-esteem in students. We establish mechanisms to offer guidance and support for those students with special needs. We promote a sense of belonging and purpose through positive relationships and a friendly atmosphere.

We affirm that the College is established to foster the Catholic tradition of active involvement in the wider community. We promote celebrations which develop our identity, sense of belonging and culture.

We believe that the students graduating from St Paul's College should possess a strong sense of hope, sound values and an awareness of the importance of responsibility within their community and relationships with others.
